LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

I am happy to suggest Mr. Vangapally Umesh for admission to your university's Master degree. As a former undergraduate student who I mentored and taught the sixth-semester course on "Artificial Intelligence", I have known him for the past three years. He has been a motivated and active student throughout his studies. He did acquire both the technical and non-technical soft skills over these three years that have made him a successful graduate student.

I found Umesh to be cheerful and analytical during our time together. He always strikes me as exuberant and endearing with a distinct point of view. He shows a great deal of enthusiasm in skill-based activities, making him one of our campus's highly accomplished students, I can state without reservation. I discovered he engaged in several departmental tasks during this time.

Umesh picks things up, analyses them, and derives conclusions from what he learns in school quite quickly. His clear presentations of reports and seminars in class reveal a grasp of the English language and remarkable communication skills. He also keeps up good relationships with other teachers and students. He seemed quite driven to pursue graduate work and research. Additionally, he has maintained a stable academic performance since the start of his high school studies.

Umesh would be a benefit to your university given his insatiable hunger for education. Therefore, I wholeheartedly endorse his application for the Master's program at your university and wish him the best of luck in his future professional and academic endeavors.
